Very fast to respond to questions and help. Clearly cares about the topic and is up to date on research. Maybe at times assumed too much prior knowledge, more detailed model solving would have helped.
I think he is great at explaining things well and it's clear that he's passionate about the subject and knows both the course content and the codes really well, which showed in his teaching.
I think the slides were good and easy to follow. It would have been good with some more exam-like questions to practice.
Zoltan is a great teacher! Always ready to help and explain concepts. The course could still benefit from some improvements in pedagogy (even though Zoltan has always been ready to explain things again, us students have had a hard time even knowing what questions to ask) — but that will probably come with time once the course develops.
You are good teacher and very helpful, you just need to look over the course and correct its weak points (I have mentioned them earlier).
Hope you get tenure
Nice teaching style! Really brings across his motivation, gives an intuitive understanding of the subject and makes things not more complicated than necessary. Also always answered super quick and was helpful with special requests (eg, an extra practice exam). His attempt of including people actively with some questions failed at times because he expected people to have followed the slides a bit more than they did, but keep this up! I really enjoyed the final exercise of the class on tuition fees. Maybe lead to these questions up more carefully and avoid big jumps right before at any cost, so people know what we are talking about when the question comes up.
Zoltan is great and his teaching and support has been nothing but excellent.
I liked your way of teaching and thank you for helping out when needed, truly appreciated. Thank you!
Zoltan is clearly very knowledgeable and inspires confidence. He is enthusiastic, which is very important, and also approachable, which made it easier to engage and ask questions. He strikes a good balance between being someone to look up to and someone we can relate to. His passion for the subject and his ability to put himself in our shoes are clear strengths. The course covers a large amount of material, and he was always available for questions and clarifications. That said, there could be more engagement with material beyond the strict course content, especially to build the real-world intuition mentioned earlier. When discussions moved in that direction, it sometimes felt that there was less engagement. While it is important not to deviate too much from the core material, making these connections and reasoning through them is often where the most valuable learning happens.
Maybe less code or focus on more easier code in lectures, couldn't understand much during those parts of lecture. (I do not mean the introduction to Julia, that was good)

Equality and Diversity

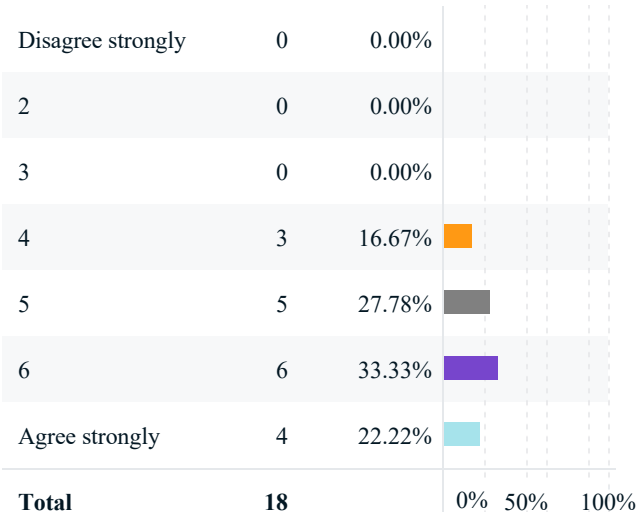

In this course, the teacher(s) actively worked to include different people and perspectives. This was demonstrated in, for example, the selection of course materials, case studies and/or guest speakers as well as during lectures and classroom discussions through balanced speaking time and avoiding stereotypical examples.
